Hancock accidents kill two

By DENA BISNETTE

Two people were killed in auto accidents early this week in Hancock County.

On Monday, Roger P. Giveans, 33, of Bay St. Louis, was killed on Ansley Road when his vehicle flipped over.

The accident occurred on a curve just west of the spot where Bay St. Louis resident George L. Smith died in a similar incident Sept. 21.

In both cases, the vehicles left the road and flipped over.

Coroner Harold Stiglet ruled Giveans dead at the scene at about 4:45 p.m.

According to a report by Glen Strong of Hancock County Sheriff's Department, the vehicle was apparently traveling too fast for road conditions and skidded off the pavement when Giveans applied the brakes.

Also responding to the scene were Deputy David Garcia, Steve Garver of the Waveland Fire Department and members of the Waveland Police Department.

On Sunday, 75-year-old Marks L. Isaacs of New Orleans died in a three-vehicle accident on Hwy. 603.

Isaacs was one of six people riding in a Chevrolet Caprice. Stiglet ruled him dead at the scene at about 1:30 p.m.

According to David Kenny of Mississippi Highway Patrol, the Caprice was being driven by Felicien Y. Lozes, also of New Orleans, who apparently failed to yield for an oncoming dump truck when he pulled off the Interstate 10 ramp into the southbound lane of the highway.

The truck, driven by James Nugent of Bay St. Louis, was hit in the rear by the car.

Kenny said the dump truck then hit an oncoming pickup driven by Christopher Ladner of Pass Christian and landed in a ditch with its rear section resting on the rear section of the car.

The truck spilled its load of topsoil onto part of the car roof, crushing part of the metal and killing Isaacs, Kenny said.

Three other passengers were injured, including Martha Lozes, Helen Derbes and Leone Isaacs, all of New Orleans. A fifth passenger, Claude Derbes, also of New Orleans, was uninjured.

All of the injured including Nugent were taken to Hancock General Hospital. Hospital spokesman Mary Perkins Wednesday said Mrs. Isaacs is still hospitalized, Mrs. Derbes was released Monday and Mrs. Lozes has been transferred to Southern Baptist Hospital in New Orleans. Nugent was treated and released and Ladner was not injured.

Kenny said traffic on Hwy. 603 remained snarled for some two hours following Sunday's accident.

Gremillon enters plea

By DENA BISNETTE

Kenneth P. Gremillon pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity to a charge of murder in Hancock County Circuit Court Wednesday.

Gremillon's attorney, Boyce Holloman, told Judge Ruble J. Griffin that his client has been found to be psychotic by doctors at the state mental hospital at Whitfield.

Both the Whitfield doctors and two others who examined Gremillon in February after he allegedly stabbed Richard Kosbab reported that the defendant was psychotic at the time Kosbab was killed, the attorney said.

However, he said Gremillon was recently moved from Whitfield to the Hancock County Jail because he was judged competent enough to stand arraignment.

The attorney did not request bond for his client.

The trial date for the Gremillon case currently listed on the docket is Jan. 15.

Sheriff's name not authorized in fund raiser

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson late Wednesday reported his office has received numerous telephone calls about someone using his name as support of a fund raising promotion concerning abused children.

Peterson said, "I am unaware of any such fund raising in Hancock County sponsored by me, and I have not authorized my name to be used for any such fund raising."

Peterson indicated he received telephone calls from eight business people on Wednesday saying a lady had been calling them and indicated he had given his approval for the fund raising. The fund raising was for some type of a publication with ads being sold at $300 a page, $150 a half page.

The sheriff had called the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and they are also unfamiliar with the fund raising.

"Persons receiving such phone calls are asked to please call my office at 467-5101," Peterson emphasized.

Farm Bureau endorses jail bond issue

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Farm Bureau's board of directors endorsed a bond issue for the construction of a new county jail on Tuesday.

"At the Farm Bureau's board of directors meeting Tuesday, they were unanimous in endorsing a new Hancock County Jail," Mary M. Perkins, publicity co-chairman for the Hancock County Jail Committee, said on Wednesday.

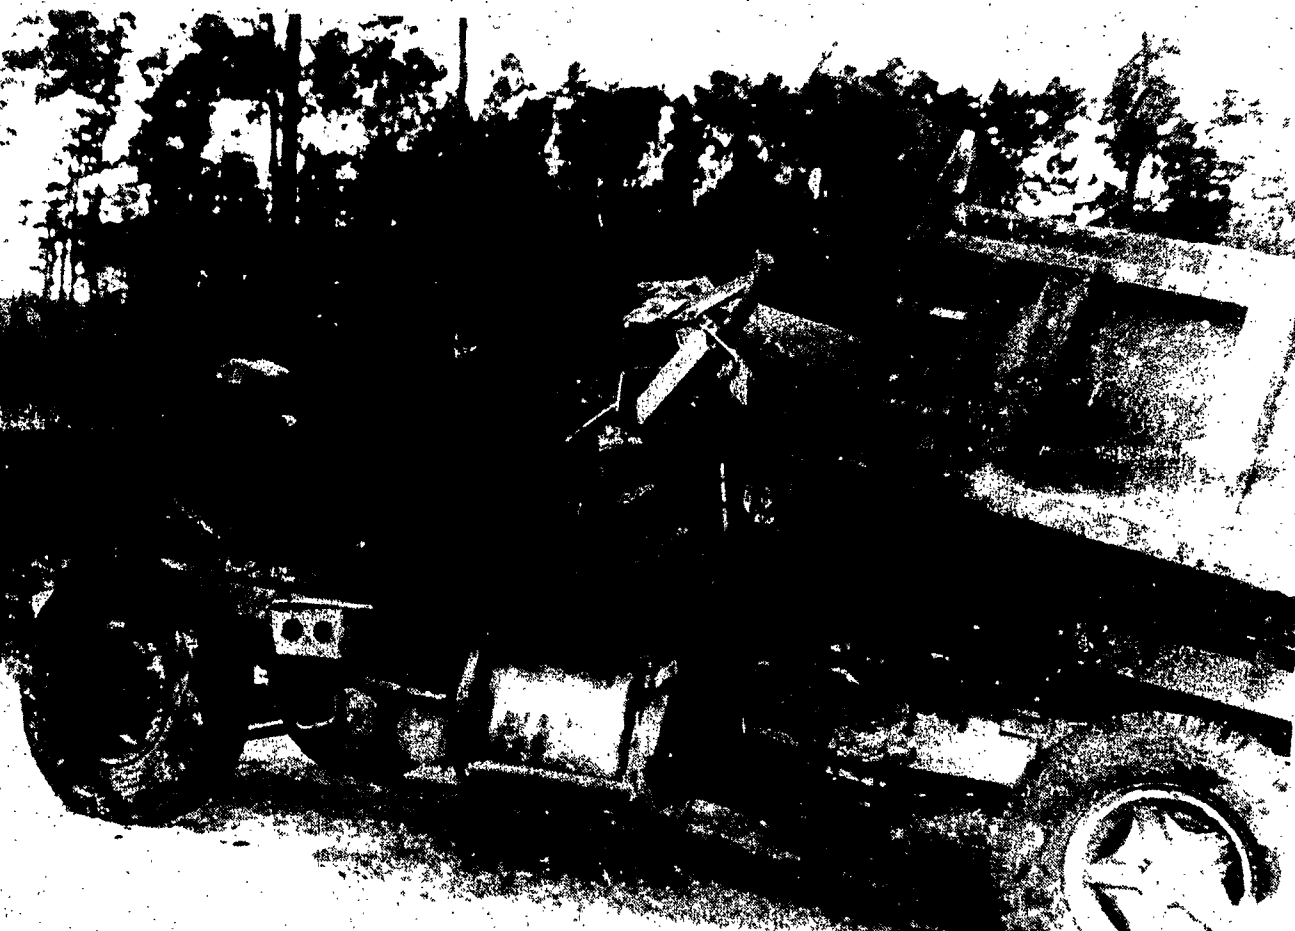

A presentation on the need of a new jail was made by Hancock Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

Other endorsements were received on Monday from the Hancock County Bar Association, and the Waveland Senior Citizens, according to Clarice Gustin, publicity co-chairman.

Previous endorsements on a new jail were received from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, City of Bay St. Louis mayor and councilmen, City of Waveland mayor and aldermen, Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Diamondhead Property Association, Shoreline Park Civic Association, as well as other civic clubs.

Picketer arrested at woman's clinic

By DENA BISNETTE

Dr. Shelia Gottschalk of Waveland has been charged with trespassing because she allegedly refused to leave private property during an anti-abortion protest.

DR. SHELIA GOTTSCHALK

Trespassing is a misdemeanor and the case was scheduled to be heard in city court Wednesday night by Municipal Judge Joseph Benvenuti.

According to Bay St. Louis Police Department Investigator Joe Pica, Gottschalk was arrested Saturday on a warrant that was issued Sept. 22.

Pica said that she was picketing on the property of the New Woman Medical Center at the time of the arrest and on the date the warrant was issued.

On both occasions, she was reportedly asked to leave the clinic parking lot, which is private property, and refused.

Pica added that Gottschalk was released on her own recognizance after the arrest.

Gottschalk, an associate professor of pediatrics at Louisiana State University School of Medicine in New Orleans, La. and director of the neo-natal intensive care unit at Charity Hospital there, is one of numerous picketers who have marched in front of the clinic recently in protest of the abortions provided there.

Pickers have been told in a judge's opinion that they must stay on the strip of public property between the parking lot and US-90.

Overgrown canal brings complaints from Hwy. 603 waterfront residents

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Cora Smith and her neighbors are upset.

They own "waterfront property" on Hwy. 603 north of Avenue B, but say it is impossible to get a boat through the canal adjoining their property when the tide is low.

"You might as well say it is not water-front property," Mrs. Smith said.

The canal running along Hwy. 603 until it empties in the Jourdan River is nearly overgrown with vegetation, say several of the water-front residents.

Residents say the problem started a few years ago when the bridge over the canal on Avenue B burned and was replaced by a culvert.

"It's a dead canal," said concerned resident Fred Benz.

"The culvert blocks the flow of the water and it can not flow back and forth in the canal."

Benz, whose property fronts the canal where the culvert is located, said the problem has gotten continuously worse and there appears to be some kind of a film on the water now.

"You can't even get a small boat out now, you have to paddle out," Benz said.

A retired power company employee, Benz said he bought the property along the canal because his wife, Mary, loves to fish. But he says she can't fish for all the undergrowth in the water.

"I spend a lot of what should be my fishing time pulling the junk out of the water," Mrs. Benz said. "Even if I get a fish on the line, it is hard to bring it in over all the growth."

When the tide is low the water in the canal behind the Benz residence is so low it is almost like "an overgrown ditch."

On the south side of Avenue B, where the canal ends after about a half mile, the water is nearly stagnant.

Beat 5 Supervisor James Travirca said that he did not think it would do any good to simply replace the culvert with a bridge or another culvert, placed lower in the canal bed.

"The land owners need to get together and get the canal bed dug deeper," he said.

"If they can do that, I will be glad to put in a deeper culvert or a bridge, whichever they want," Travirca said, "but I can't do anything until they get the canal fixed."

Travirca added that he will not be able to undertake the job, which will cost at least $5,000, next year due to the recent purchase of a garter for the area. But he said he will work with the landowners to correct the problem.

Mrs. Smith, a 24-year resident of the area, has several photographs on the walls of the catches she has taken from the canal during her years there.

"My husband and I used to go fishing every day in the canal," she said. "But I wouldn't eat a fish out of there now for a million dollars."

"We used to take 15 to 20 pounds of fish out of the canal in any one day," Smith said, "and one time my son caught 35 bream in less than an hour."

Mrs. Smith said when her husband was alive he kept the undergrowth in ed down some by going back and forth across it with a boat.

CFC giving should be designated

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Residents of the area contributing through the Combined Federal Campaign are urged to mark proper county residences, according to Hilda Bourg, 1984 campaign chairman for the United Way of Hancock County.

Bourg said, "The Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) now underway includes Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, and Pearl River Counties and persons making contributions must designate their county residence in order for their United Way to receive credit when the campaign is finished."

Hancock County residents are urged to mark number 701 on the CFC forms Bourg stated.

The Combined Federal Campaign includes all the employees at NSTL, post offices and governmental agencies in the four counties.

Northern Haas, president of the United Way of Hancock County, said a goal of the campaign would be to raise $100,000 for the CFC participation.

Hancock County United Way funds some 15 area agencies.

Adult chemical dependency treatment unit will open in former Biloxi Hospital

Jim Soriano, formerly of New Orleans, has been named program director of Biloxi Regional Outreach, the first free-standing hospital on the Mississippi Gulf Coast dedicated exclusively to the treatment of adult chemical dependency.

Jerry Kincade, administrator of Biloxi Regional Medical Center, said the new facility is a service of Biloxi Regional Medical Center and will be located in the renovated Old Biloxi Hospital building at 410 East Beach.

Soriano, a native of Newark, N.J., was hospital administrator for the first free-standing chemical dependency unit in New Orleans prior to taking the post with Biloxi Regional Outreach.

While in New Orleans, he began a home health care agency and worked to establish Friendship Club, a center for people who are psychologically handicapped.

He moved to New Orleans from New Jersey to work with the city's first substance abuse unit at DePaul Hospital.

He became one of the first male substance counselors in New Orleans; then head counselor and later assistant director of program development.

In that capacity, he handled program development, advertising and counseling, as well as acted in four television commercials.

Soriano received his master's degree in psychological counseling from William Patterson College, Patterson, N.J. He has a bachelor's degree in marketing from Fairleigh Dickinson University in Rutherford, N.J. He completed the equivalent of a bachelor's degree in psychology prior to beginning his graduate work at William Patterson.

While still in New Jersey, he worked with a psychological hospital and the State of New Jersey to establish a de-institutional project, similar to the Friendship Club he initiated in New Orleans.

"I like the South very much, the warm weather, the warm people—the food," Soriano said jokingly regarding this decision to relocate south of the Mason-Dixon line. "I am particularly proud of the program we're beginning on the Coast with Biloxi Regional Outreach," he said.

"The program will be the finest and the ultimate in treatment for substance abuse on the Gulf Coast. Inside, the facility will look like a luxury hotel with a swimming pool and sunny verandas. "In addition, we will be offering excellent patient care with a very professional staff and a very structured program," Soriano said.

"This is a program that the people of Biloxi will be proud to have on their beach, their Gulf," He said the structured program, the setting and a staff of all college graduates with substance abuse treatment experience differentiate Biloxi Regional from other area facilities that utilize college interns, technicians without degrees and LPN's rather than all RN's as on the Outreach staff.

The staff of Biloxi Regional Outreach will consist of 31 people, all from the

JIM SORIANO

Gulf Coast area, Soriano said. The staff will be complete by mid-October, he added.

LET'S TALK FACTS

Hancock Countians, serving as Grand Jurors as far back as 1972, have found the Hancock County jail to be unsatisfactory. Each Grand Jury report states emphatically that the physical conditions of the jail present a potential threat to the public safety and also create an unsafe situation for jail personnel, as well as inmates.

*The present jail lacks adequate heat, light, ventilation, sanitation and, most dangerous of all, fire exits.

*The jail lacks adult facilities. When there are female adults and both male and female juveniles, either someone must be released or arrangements made to house some inmates elsewhere.

*Numerous escapes have occurred from the jail, the most recent being six months ago. These escapes can be avoided in the future with a jail that meets all security requirements.

*There is no way to avoid housing first time minor offenders with those convicted of serious crimes. Many persons who are held in the jail have not been convicted of any crime and are, under our laws, innocent until convicted.

Let's seriously affirm the recommendations of these Grand Jurors and erase these potential threats to the citizens of our community.

The need is urgent.

Burglary suspect found in attic

By DENA BISNETTE

A burglary suspect was apprehended early Saturday morning at the A-1 Home Center-Radio Shack building on US-90, according to the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Brief

LARGEST BIRD

The largest bird in the world, the ostrich, is a strange bird, says "International Wildlife" magazine. A male ostrich typically stands seven feet tall, weighs 260 pounds, runs up to 50 miles an hour with strides as long as 15 feet and packs a kick of up to 500 pounds per square inch. Yet, the bird stops when a person waves a thorn-tree branch in its face.

Authorities are still looking for two other people believed to have been assisting the arrested man in a burglary attempt.

Acting Police Chief Murray Ladner reported that Sammy Jordan, 22, of 403 Sidney St., Waveland, was found in the attic of the store at about 5:12 a.m. when police surrounded the building after receiving a report someone was in the store.

Ladner said two other suspects escaped before they could be arrested.

He also said that Jordan was found to be in possession of about $50 believed taken from the store.

Jordan was not armed, Ladner said. The suspect was arraigned before Municipal Court Judge Joseph Benvenuti on Monday. He is charged with burglary.

Ladner said the suspects apparently gained entrance to the building by breaking into a back door.

Jordan was arrested by Investigator Joe Pica and Lt. Gary Crum. Assisting were Bay St. Louis Police Officer Jessie Barnett, Don Coss, of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and Oscar Thomas of Waveland Police Department.

In an unrelated incident, Charles Booker, 46, of Bay St. Louis, was arrested on a charge of possession of stolen property.

Found in Booker's possession was about $300 in fishing equipment that was reported taken off the carport of the Don Smith residence at 411 Washington St. on Sept. 29, Ladner said.

Smith was arrested by Bay Police Officer William Brown and is being held on $2,500 bond in the Hancock County Jail.

A second suspect in the thefts is being sought, Ladner said.

EDITORIAL

'Lighting' is best role of free press

The nation's community newspapers are—and always have been—"lighting freedom's way" during National Newspaper Week, Oct. 7 through 13. The nation's printed press has always pictured itself as shedding light in one way or another—many of us carry in our front page "flags" a picture of a torch, or a lighthouse—because it is our contention that the truth is there for the public to see if we shine that light on it.

In other words, we don't have to create the news, or hype it—it's there, and our job is to present it factually so that citizens of an informed democracy can make their choices based on knowledge.

One of the newspaper industry's continual problems is convincing our readers that we don't "make up" or "hype" the stories we report in order to further our own aims or make some political or social statement.

Our primary task, as we see it, is to be "lighters," not "fighters"—that is, to tell the story of events in the best way we know how rather than to try in our news pages to shape our readers' opinions about the world around them and what they ought to do as citizens.

We express our opinions—no doubt about it. We do it on our editorial pages, which we clearly mark as such. But we do our best to report the news straight, correct and to the point, without slanting the story or making it bigger (or smaller) than it deserves.

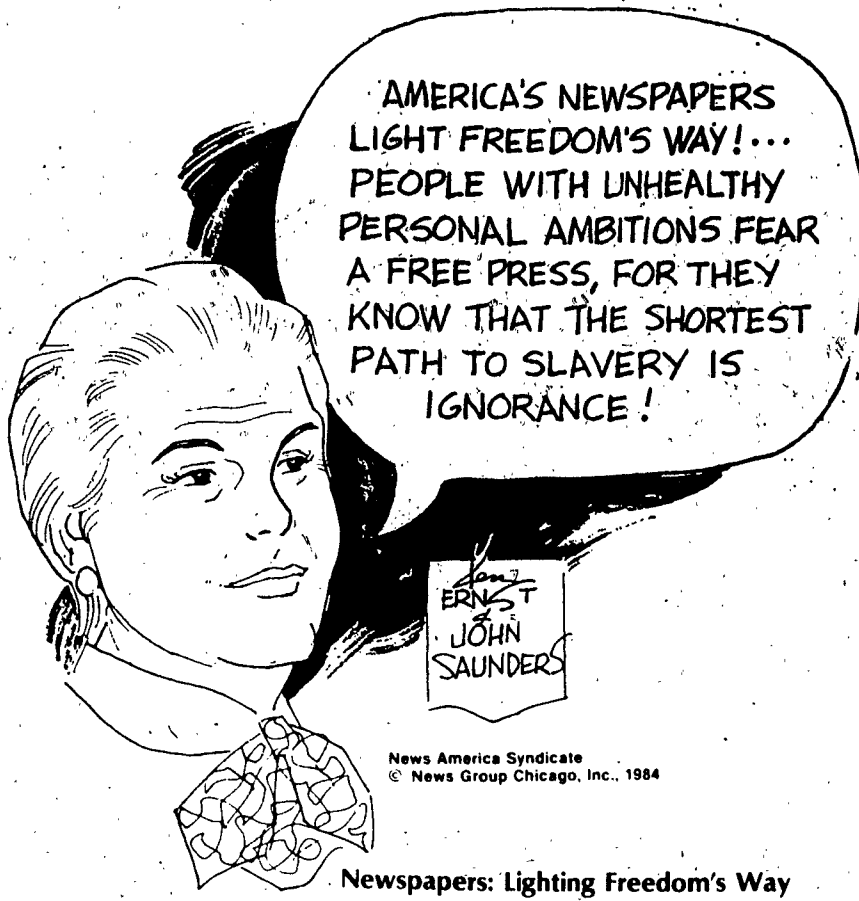

That—printing the objective truth, and confining our own opinions to our opinion page—is our creed. And there's a wonderful debate, which never ends, within the newspaper community about how to do this best. No reader can be as hard on an editor who has strayed from the path as his or her colleagues are. Arguments about our duty to our readers—about how best to cover the news, and whether we are "lighters" or "fighters"—are good medicine for our industry, and bring the reader a better newspaper with every issue. It's a matter of quiet pride within our news community that reporting the news has become more professional every year.

Most of us agree that we are also "fighters"—that we will put ourselves, through our editorial pages, in the forefront on issues that are important to the community. But we know, in our best moments, that taking our advocacy stance is no substitute for the informed action of the community, and we take care not to confuse the two.

Best of all, we know that "lighting" comes first—if we don't get the facts right, our opinions and the actions that we urge in those opinions will have diminished value to the community.

In this week when we stress the role of newspapers in the health of our democracy, we proudly say we are "lighting freedom's way" because, if we can show our readers the truth, that truth will make them free.

Newspapers: Lighting Freedom's Way

From the Office of the Governor

Governor Bill Allain Thursday announced the approval of $1.3 million in Community Development Block Grant funds through his office to return Orleans Furniture Company, which was formerly New Orleans Furniture Manufacturing Company, to full scale operations.

The grant announcement was made during ceremonies at the company plant in Columbia which closed Feb. 8 and returned to operations on a very limited scale a few weeks later.

"These funds, through the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, are proof of energetic and innovative grantsmanship from federal, state, and local agencies. The key component in this endeavor, however, were local officials and private businesses who persistently sought methods for reopening this vital facet of the economy of Columbia and all of Marion County," Governor Allain said.

The CDBG funds will be divided evenly between the City of Columbia and Marion County, who will lend it to the company. The company, in turn, will repay the funds to the local government for continued CDBG industrial activities, Governor Allain said.

He said the CDBG funds will be used to acquire the plant and equipment of the company and to set up and maintain full scale operations. In addition to the CDBG funds, the project will include $2 million from the Economic Development Administration, $2.3 million from the First National Bank, and $1.55 million in private investments. Governor Allain said the total investment is $7.1 million.

The Governor's Office has been working with local officials, private investors and First National Bank since March to determine workable funding methods for regaining the company's employment potential for the area.

"This is the first project of its type in the country," Governor Allain said. "This is the first time that these state and federal agencies have gotten together and worked with local and state private sources to put an industry back into business. We hope this will not be the last time."

At the time the company closed its doors, some 200 employees had been laid off and another 450 were employed. When the company reopened on a limited basis, just over 100 people were employed.

"Unemployment benefits to these workers has exceeded $1 million, and is continuing to accumulate. The last employees who worked there before the closing were in the final quarter of their benefits and would not be eligible for more benefits. We now hope these people will get another chance at a job," Governor Allain said.

Governor Allain singled out Mayor Billy Borne and the city officials; the Marion County Board of Supervisors; the First National Bank leadership, including Frank Day; South Mississippi Planning and Development District Director Les Newcombe; and the numerous private investors who made the project a reality.

"The people of Marion County and Columbia are to be commended," Governor Allain said, "for proving that enough local initiative and leadership can accomplish almost anything. The future of Orleans Furniture Manufacturing Company, especially through the aggressive leadership of President Butch Simmons, is a credit to the people of this community."

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK
October 7-13, 1984

The theme of the 1984 observance of National Newspaper Week, "Newspapers: Lighting Freedom's Way," provides us with an opportunity to reflect on the importance of this institution to our way of life. As Herbert Hoover once said, "Freedom of the press...is a foundation stone of American liberty."

The Statue of Liberty stands as a beacon to guide our great Republic through these troubled times just as a strong, independent, and free press illuminates our country's journey with the light of freedom's way.

Never in history have a people enjoyed the fruits of liberty as we have. Our economic, religious, and political freedom is dependent upon the open exchange of ideas and varying opinions expressed in America's newspapers. This readily available source of information helps guarantee a knowledgeable public without whose understanding our representative form of government would crumble into ashes.

As that great monument in New York Harbor is now being refurbished, let us rededicate ourselves to the principles of a free press and renew our commitment to support and defend it against all enemies.

On Saturday the Hancock County Art Association will hold an art show on the library grounds in Bay St. Louis.

The art show is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and all indications are that it will be a great show.

We are hoping there will be many visitors out Saturday to admire the work of our talented residents.

After visiting the art show on Saturday you may want to stop at the Our Lady Academy International Food Festival in Bay St. Louis.

The event will be held in front of the St. Joseph Gym next to Our Lady of the Gulf Church from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Foods from around the world will be on the menu and at a very reasonable price.

Favorite Italian, American, Polish, Mexican, Filipino, Swedish, German, Cajun, Spanish, French and Oriental dishes are among the many foods that will be offered at the festival.

We hope to see you at the food fest.

Saturday appears to be a very busy day, as another function scheduled is the dedication of the Waveland Civic Center at 6 p.m.

The building has been completely re-roofed in a face lifting project and is really looking good.

Some of us can remember when the Waveland School made the building its home, but that was many years ago.

As a Civic Center, the building has been put to very good use and is a real asset to the City of Waveland.

On Friday night, two high school homecomings will be celebrated in Hancock County.

Bay High's Tigers will play host to the Long Beach Bearcats in Tiger Stadium for homecoming.

The Tigers, fresh from a victory over St. Stanislaus, will really have to get it all together this week in order to defeat the Bearcats.

Long Beach always gives Bay High a good game, and the Tigers will need all of the homecoming support available to urge them to victory.

Hancock North Central will host the St. Martin Yellow Jackets for Homecoming in Hawk Stadium Friday.

The Hawks broke into the winning column last week against East Central and are wanting to keep their victory string going.

Injuries have been a problem to Hancock and likewise to Bay High this season.

The Hawks with a little luck and superb play can defeat St. Martin, so we hope all Hancock fans will be out to support their team.

Pass Christian Pirates will journey half-way to Memphis to play East Central Friday night.

An improving Pass Christian squad lost a squeaker last week to league leading Stone County by two points.

The Pirates should take East Central, but could be surprised.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws have an open date Friday.

While on the subject of football, Pearl River Junior College will also celebrate homecoming on Saturday of this week.

Gidget Necaise, a graduate of Hancock North Central will reign as homecoming queen.

Also at PRC, two Bay High graduates will serve as maid in the court.

They are Sherrie Koenig, and Christine Gleber, both of Bay St. Louis.

This is very good representation for Hancock County at the junior college's homecoming.

There are many graduates of PRC from Hancock County, so we hope there will be a lot of Wildcat supporters at the homecoming tilt.

PRC plays Gulf Coast in the homecoming tilt.

Time For A Little Outrage

From almost every county in Mississippi, concerns are being expressed about the possibility of rising property taxes. The question of taxes should raise another question; that is, the question of use of tax dollars.

Mississippians need to be as concerned about the use of their tax dollars as they are about the paying of those tax dollars. Too many, however, seem to be willing to ignore or overlook poor management practices in county government even though they voice concern and even anger about the prospects of paying more taxes.

Simply stated, Mississippians would be paying less taxes if they insisted on improved government, particularly at the county level.

There is an obvious example. Legislative and other study committees have been telling us for two decades now that counties are wasting millions of dollars per year as they operate five separate road departments in most counties. At this point, only seven counties have made decisions to manage road operations under the unit system, whereby the five county road departments are organized in a single road system for the total county.

The savings are obvious — less equipment and fewer employees. Counties operating under the unit system have pointed to savings of as much as one-third to one-half of previous expenditures under the best system.

If county supervisors are not going to make better use of tax dollars through improved management, and if the Legislature is going to continue to refuse to require such improvements, the only hope is that the taxpayers will make demands on their county officials and legislators. Public outrage may be the only remedy for poor county management.

It's time for a little outrage among Mississippi taxpayers.

Planning Commission to review development

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Hancock County Planning Commission voted last Thursday to request James Curtis Lee to come before the commission to provide information on a subdivision he is developing.

The subdivision, located off Indian Ridge Road, is not a legally established subdivision and does not comply with all subdivision regulations, John Scaffide, commission attorney, said.

Wastewater receives EPA grant

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has awarded a grant of $354,119 to the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District for construction of wastewater treatment facilities.

The grant was awarded as a part of a federal program designed to provide assistance to communities to achieve the nation's water quality goals, as outlined in the Clean Water Act.

Under this program, the Federal grant will pay 75 percent of the eligible costs of the sewage treatment project, which will consist of modifications to the Bay St. Louis treatment facility.

The focus of EPA's construction grants program is directed toward improvement of water quality.

The grant offer was made in a letter from Charles R. Jeter, EPA Region IV administrator, to John Longo Jr. chairman, Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District.

A controversy arose when subdivision residents requested that county supervisors provide maintenance for the road in the subdivision.

"There is a question as to whose responsibility it is to maintain the road," he said.

As the subdivision is not legally established, maintenance on the road is not the county's responsibility, he added.

Subdivision requirements state that the developer must put a hard surface on the road.

If requirements are met, then the county can maintain the road, Scaffide said.

In other business the commission agreed to present the final plans to the board of supervisors for the Lambert Development, which is located between Lakeshore Road and Bayou Cadet.

This development will include approximately 120 lots, and will have its own utility company to provide water and sewer services to its residents. The developers have also committed to build a road in the subdivision.

Donn Murray, commission building official, reported to the board that there had been 23 building permits issued in September for a total of $967.

The permits issued include seven trailer permits, eight house permits, one addition permit and one shed permit. Six permits were issued for no charge.

In September of 1983 there were 44 permits issued for $1,643, Murray said. Commissioner Paula Necaise made a motion that Murray be given a raise of $50 a month effective Nov. 1.

He is one county employee who did not receive a raise recently when across-the-board raises were given to county employees, she said.

The commission unanimously approved the motion.

Murray also reported to the commission that Evonne Ladner had withdrawn her resignation and will remain as his assistant.

ARSON INVESTIGATION CONTINUES—Hancock County Arson Investigator Edward Frloux said there are suspects in the recent destruction of a house by fire in the Bayou Phillips area. The house was owned by Willie L. Willis and rented by Jim Lavine, whose car was also destroyed in the fire caused by a gasoline spontaneous ignition. (Photo by James Varnell)

Two-day investigation nets one drug arrest

By DENA BISNETTE

A Clinton man was arrested in Bay St. Louis Thursday on drug charges resulting from the attempted sale of marijuana to two Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics agents.

According to Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Alvin Ladner, Uguster "Dock" Jones, 43, was arrested as a result of a two-day investigation initiated by the sheriff's department and conducted with the assistance of the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, Bay St. Louis Police Department and the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

The arrest occurred at 12:50 p.m. in the parking lot of the Winn Dixie store on US-90.

When he was arrested, Jones was driving a 1977 Oldsmobile Cutlass that had been reported stolen in Jackson, Ladner said.

Bail has been set at $50,000 for one count each of possession of a controlled substance and sale of a controlled substance, but Ladner reported Tuesday that Jones would be held for the Jackson Police Department on auto theft charges rather than released on bond.

BAYS 14-Under Girls score first victory

This past Saturday Mason's Exxon again were outclassed, but continue to show determination and improvement.

"Gift 'n' Gold 'Nuggets'" won 4-0, dominating the game to such an extent that one of the goals was scored by fullback Angelle Duncan.

The Under-14 girls won their first game ever against a team considered in Slidell to be the best. The score was 2-1 with rookie goalkeeper Lisa Watson stopping a penalty shot to preserve the victory.

Sports World "Cruisers" in Frank Gray's finale as a coach were downed by a superior Select team from Slidell, but played courageously and hard.

Coach Jan Brameyer after the game commended the girls "for spirit and determination under difficult circumstances."

Suzanne Hille and Kelli Lee performed well at halfback. The team has lost three of four starting fullbacks and goalkeeper from last year, so this year will be one of rebuilding.

GRAY FAREWELL

Last Thursday evening the Bay Area Youth Soccer, Inc. bid farewell to Frank Gray, one of the moving forces behind the establishment of BAYS. Gray and his wife Judith were the dinner guests of Tom and Daryl Demboski at La Petite Cafe in Waveland.

Demboski also is one of BAYS' organizers.

After dinner Waddy LeBourgeois, a current BAYS' director and girls' commissioner, presented Gray with a plaque from the club "in appreciation for invaluable, dedicated and irreplaceable service in the establishment and development of the Bay Area Youth Soccer Club as Secretary, Coach, Referee and Publicity Director."

Gray thanked the club and indicated that what he will miss most on leaving the area for Portland, Ore., are the friends and youth whom he has met during his soccer tenure here.

"I just hope that the girls program continues to grow," remarked Gray.

HEAVY-DUTY COLLECTIBLES—M.W. Hamilton of Petal, owner of the Mississippi Machinery Museum, displays some of his artifacts on "Mississippi Roads" at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 16, on Mississippi ETV. The program will be rebroadcast at 5 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 21.

SHARK FILLET

Shark Fillet is wonderful breaded & fried 90 seconds on each side - it is excellent baked, broiled or poached. Moistening shark with vinegar before cooking enhances the flavor.

Small Mako Shark is one of the best and now available here. Shark must be bled & gutted within 2 to 3 hours after being caught. If not it isn't worth eating and turns excessively red in color.

This white, beautiful meat will replace any other fish in a recipe. Send me your seafood recipes and I'll print them in this column. You will receive enough free seafood from Blue Water Seafood Market to prepare it for two. Also we will try to answer any questions about seafood in this weekly "Seafood Tips" column.

'Natural' cosmetics and cures receive renewed attention

Since civilization began people have looked for ways to improve nature or alter its course.

Three papyrus from an Egyptian tomb contain a formula for mixing dried plants and oils to transform an old man into a 20-year-old by removing the painful marks of aging.

What may have been the first strike in history was organized during the reign of Ramses III (c. 1198-1187 B.C.) because stone workers weren't provided enough ointments to soothe work-roughened hands.

Although American labor hasn't yet voiced demands for hand cream on the assembly line, our society puts more emphasis than ever on health and beauty. And, increasingly, it wants both to be natural.

Dr. James McChesney, chairman and professor of pharmacognosy at The University of Mississippi, thinks the current trend toward natural cosmetics and cures is part of an anti-science backlash.

"Technological nightmares like Three-Mile Island, acid rain and dioxin have made natural things attractive and technological things seem bad," he said.

For years the 'natural look' has been a cornerstone of cosmetics marketing. But the number of health and beauty aids based on newly-discovered properties of natural ingredients has surged recently.

Natural beauty seekers these days can buy body masques made from 'fresh sea weed cells and aloe'; facial masques containing mud from the Dead Sea, said to be 'awash with minerals'; and cleansers made from the fiber of apricot seeds which guarantee 'fresher, better-looking skin after just one use.'

The list is nearly endless. It sounds great, like discovering that Cleopatra's beauty secret has been in the refrigerator or the aquarium all along.

It sounds too good to be true, and it is. According to McChesney, "In every one of these products there's likely to be some benefit, but less than what is implied."

It's what is implied that sells products.

For example, McChesney said, "Washing your hair in Tide detergent will get it clean. Now, whether it gives your hair new vitality, adds body and sex appeal is a different matter."

"Being human and naturally vain, we're willing to pay for something that might make us more attractive."

Some claims made for natural products are more than Madison Avenue hype, however.

Natural substances have impurities which often make a difference in how they work, McChesney said. Synthetic and natural substances have essentially the same chemical and physical properties, but natural impurities are impossible to duplicate.

Fragrance is one of these impossible-to-synthesize compounds because of its subtlety.

"You might be able to make 99.9 percent of a perfume's ingredients but its the other tenth of a percent that makes the difference," he said.

The same science backlash that uncovered the amazing cosmetic potential of seaweed cells and apricot seeds has renewed interest in folk medicines and natural remedies.

That scientists can profit by examining traditional cures is easily demonstrated.

In the time of Imhotep, an Egyptian physician in 3,000 B.C., wounds were commonly treated with molds that grew on bread or on wood which had been soaking in water. The practice is still used in under-developed countries.

In 1945 three scientists shared the Nobel prize in medicine and physiology for the 'discovery' of penicillin, an inhibitor of bacterial growth found in bread mold.

"As more old-fashioned medicines are evaluated, we discover a rational, chemical reason why they work," McChesney said.

Among the most promising of these medicines is a Chinese plant known botanically as Artemisia annua.

The Chinese steep the plant's leaves in water, producing tea that's more effective than quinine for treating malaria, one of the top three diseases affecting mankind.

Despite verifiable benefits of some 11 herbal remedies, in most Western countries they're considered strictly folk medicine.

A certain skepticism is understandable in light of claims made for some of them. For instance, a recent issue of "Prevention" magazine announced that a simple diet of grapes has been of value in treating rheumatism, arthritis, kidney complaints, ulcers, migraines, alcoholism and mental instability.

Most of the benefits 'promised' by health magazines are more vague, like numerous assertions that certain herbs will 'improve the emotional state and give joy to life.' Among the joy-giving herbs are borage, sage, fennel and camomile, which also softens skin and highlights blond hair.

Even in the absence of demonstrated medical effects, benefits from unlikely sources can't be discounted if the patient believes they work.

Forty to 50 percent of all drugs are derived from natural substances, McChesney said, with benefits from unlikely sources still being discovered.

In short, the large number of modern remedies based on traditional methods and beliefs indicates that folk medicines were often on the right track, though perhaps for the wrong reasons.

York Realty execs attend Jackson meet

J.C. and Annette Breshears of Pearl-ington, owners of Annette York Realty, were among almost 300 individuals who attended the Mississippi Association of Realtors' 59th Annual Convention at Holiday Inn Southwest in Jackson, Oct. 3-7.

The two local brokers attended educational sessions on securities and syndication, trust account management, listing and sales, negotiating, issues related to the real estate industry and the economy, professionalism, ethics and specialty education, and an update on political elections and legislative issues facing the real estate industry.

The Mississippi Association of Realtors is a statewide professional trade association representing more than 2,700 members of some 26 local realtor boards in Mississippi.

P&Z ok's request

The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Board ruled on one zoning change Tuesday, but turned away two other requests for assistance because they did not require action by the zoning board.

The board agreed to a request from McDonald Realty Co., represented by Robert Kane, for a change from an R-3 zoning to a C-3 zoning.

The area to be rezoned is located next to MarkeTown Shopping Center but does not front U.S.-90.

The C-3 zoning will allow commercial development on the property and is consistent with the rest of the neighborhood, the board ruled. The change will be recommended for final approval at the next city council meeting.

Also attending the meeting to discuss the request were Robert Genin and John Scaffidi, whose families own adjacent land. Their major objection to the request was that no immediate use for the land was specified.

Kane reported that there is no immediate use planned, but said having the correct zoning will facilitate commercial development in the future.

The board also heard from Marie Bernard, who wants to establish a day care center on Old Spanish Trail, but decided that she does not need a zoning change. Her property is zoned residential, which already allows for the establishment of private schools.

The board also decided that no zoning change or easement is required for Joe Kingston Sr., who wants to build a guest house behind his residence on Beach Boulevard.

By Katy McGuire Caire

I'm a cheese lover from way back when, especially cheese with a little different zing and zest to it, and for this reason take a lot of teasing from family and friends over my habit of trying out and adding all sorts of edibles to cheeses or cheese spreads to make them more interesting.

One of my favorites, a new taste treat on the homemade pimiento cheese theme, is a generations-old taste formula which depends upon an old-fashioned cooked dressing for its extra flavor.

It's excellent as a dip, a sandwich spread, a filling for hard-cooked eggs or celery, or just eaten greedily from a spoon, as I often do while I'm mixing this up. After all, the cook has to taste, right?

I grant you that there are excellent pimiento cheese and other spreads available commercially—but just try this! Here's:

OLE TIME PIMIENTO CHEESE

- 2 lbs. sharp or mild cheddar cheese
- 1 medium onion
- 1 jar or can pimientos
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup vinegar

First, grind together the cheese, onion and pimientos and set aside to be added to the cooked salad dressing or mayonnaise.

For this, beat the eggs well (or just the yolks, if you've any leftover from cake baking or such). Add the cup of sugar, beating well into the eggs. Next add the cup of vinegar and cook over a slow fire, stirring the while. Do not let it reach a boil, whatever you do.

Taste as it cooks, and if not sweet or sharp enough, add a little more of either one, and after cooling stir in the cheese mixture.

If you want to take a short cut, grate the cheese, chop up the pimientos and onion, and mix well with your own homemade mayonnaise (not the cooked dressing) or with a good mayonnaise from the store.

UNRECOGNIZED PINCHED NERVES

Pinched nerve is a term utilized by the Chiropractic profession describing an irritation disturbance of a spinal nerve. Falls, auto accidents, lifting wrong may cause a displacement of a spinal bone, which then can pinch nerves and interrupt normal nerve function. Some of the more common complaints that may develop from pinched nerves are: dizziness, headaches, nervousness, pains in the chest, stomach, neck or back. Often, a person may not associate his condition with pinched nerves thus allowing these conditions to go unrecognized until an advanced stage of illness develops. A competent Chiropractic examination will lead to early detection and the application of care will aid prompt recovery.

MISSISSIPPI ROADS

The third program in this season of "Mississippi Roads" on Mississippi ETV makes stops in Petal, McComb, Jackson, Amory, Greenville and Belzoni.

"Mississippi Roads" can be seen at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 16 with a rebroadcast at 5 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 21.

The show leads off with N.W. Hamilton of Petal, an avid collector and owner of the Mississippi Machinery Museum. His collection ranges from ordinary machines to a C-47 cargo plane, a twin rotor helicopter and a Jupiter rocket.

Lynn Swigert, director of the Jackson Zoological Park, takes viewers on a tour of the zoo and explains some of its extensive expansion plans.

A short stop in Amory is next with a view of Engine 1529, the engine that pulled Franklin Delano Roosevelt's car to town on his way to dedicate the TVA.

"Mississippi Roads" samples some of the famous barbecue at Jeanie's Inn in McComb where Hal Washington does the cooking outdoors with his own mixture of hickory and sassafras wood while Annie Washington prepares the sauce.

For musical entertainment, legendary blues artist Eugene Powell of Greenville performs "Pony Blues."

For the final stop of the program, "Mississippi Roads" visits Ethel Mohamed of Belzoni who displays some of her famed stitchery creations.

Commission accepts proposal after closed discussion

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission has approved a proposal from Borgen Engineering of Slidell, La., for the updating of an application for Federal Aviation Administration funding to improve lighting on a parallel taxiway at Stennis Airport.

When the bids were let for the construction of the taxiway about two years ago, the FAA had no funds available for a lighting grant, but commission attorney Gerald Gex said the commission has been advised that the pre-application filed for funding at that time should be updated.

The commission went into executive session to discuss the proposal, which indicates that Borgen will charge by the hour for preparing the updated application with the total fee not exceeding $700.

The vote to approve the proposal was made in open session after the closed meeting with Charles Cordon, an engineer who represented Borgen at the meeting.

Although proposals are usually discussed in open session, Gex termed the matter to be discussed a "personnel matter," which may be discussed in executive session under Mississippi's open meetings law.

A Sun-Herald reporter who questioned the motive for entering executive session obtained a verbal opinion from Assistant Attorney General Lloyd Arnold on the matter.

Arnold said the discussion is not considered a personnel matter under the open meetings law.

Gex, however, said that he interpreted the statute as allowing the discussion because Cordon, representing Borgen, is engineer of record for a county project and is therefore a county employee.

He also stated that he contacted Arnold the day after the meeting to ask him by what authority the opinion was given, since "for an opinion to hold any weight, it must be made in writing at the request of a public body."

"We may have been stretching the point but I still feel that the discussion falls under the realm of executive session," Gex said.

In other business, the commission decided not to hire an independent laboratory to retake soil tests on the construction of an apron project; retained Moore and Powell as its accounting firm for the 1984-85 fiscal year; and renewed a terminal license for Hancock County Terminal Co.

The commission also accepted a bid of $88,240 for the construction of a water well from Lane Central of Jackson.

The well is part of four-phase airport improvement project being financed with $500,000 in Housing and Urban Development funds; $198,000 in local funds and $750,000 in Economic Development Administration funding.

Also approved was the advertisement for bids on plans and specifications for drainage improvements, which are the fourth phase of the project.

Knights sponsoring Columbus Day event

A special Columbus Day address will be heard over radio station WXGR on Friday, at 7:30 a.m., according to an announcement made by Jody Knight, grand knight of Fr. A.D. Denis Knights of Columbus Council No. 7078 in Kiln.

Knight stated that the address would be delivered by Virgil C. Dechant, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus.

The executive head of the approximately 1.4 million member Catholic family, fraternal, service organization will speak on "Faith in God, Confidence in Self."

"Four hundred and ninety-two years ago, Christopher Columbus completed one of the most daring and courageous exploratory sea voyages recorded in the annals of mankind—the discovery of the North American Continent," Knight said.

Bay St. Louis council adopts $6.1 million budget

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Bay St. Louis Council has adopted a $6.1 million budget which includes a six percent pay increase for all city employees.

The budget provides for the addition of two officers to the police department, a purchasing agent for the city, an additional employee in the tax department and a staff addition in the utility department.

The approved budget is approximately 16 percent higher than the 1984 budget.

Bennett said the increase in the budget was made possible because of additional revenues expected.

The general fund budget increased by $247,500 over the original 1984 budget but only $33,300 over the amended 1984 budget.

The amended budget included an addition of nearly $68,000 for the street department to cover a deficit in that department.

According to the general fund budget, revenues for the 1985 fiscal year will total $1,796,200.

Included in these revenues is $1,030,800 from taxation, $125,000 from franchise fees, $80,000 from licenses, permits and fees, $47,000 in state aid, $115,000 from garbage collections, $162,000 in federal shared revenue, $32,400 in miscellaneous revenue and $40,000 in interest received.

Also included is a cash balance to begin of $164,000. This amount is a surplus from last year when the city received considerably larger amount than expected from the increased sales tax.

Increases in revenue over last year's budget are mainly from sales tax, federal shared income, franchise fees and taxation.

Budgeted expenditures match the $1,796,200 of revenues, with an ending cash balance of $51,895.

City Clerk Edward Favre said this cash balance is necessary to fund city projects from the beginning of the fiscal year (Oct. 1) until property taxes are collected in January.

Salary increases was the major factor in the $3,000 increase in the budget for supervision and finance.

The police department budget increased by $56,106 with the addition of new employees, pay increases for the 24 employees and an increase in insurance premiums of nearly $5,000.

This budget is actually lower than the $22,720 amount listed on the amended budget.

Pay increases for the 11 fire department employee accounted for more than $10,000 of the $25,000 increase in the fire department budget. Other major increases include communications repair and maintenance and insurance premiums.

A decrease of $1,499 was noted in the building inspection department which also includes an electrical inspector. This decrease was due to a reduction in auto allowance and workshops, seminars and travel and the elimination of retirement taxes.

The total budgeted amount for public safety, which includes the police, fire and inspection departments is $655,905, an increase of more than $80,000 over the 1984 budget.

Public works' budget, which includes the street and public grounds departments and street safety and sanitation, increased by $100,787 over the original budget but only a $27,670 increase over the amended budget.

Of the total, $162,000 is designated as capital outlay for improvements, an increase of $62,000 over capital outlay in 1984.

These funds will be used for work on Central Avenue, including widening the road, drainage work and an overlay; road improvements on Beach Road from US-90 to the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club; culvert work in Spanish Acres; and road paving to be done upon the completion of sewage work.

The street department's budget is $177,950, a $22,000 increase over 1984, but a $44,150 decrease over the amended budget last year.

The major increase was for equipment rental.

The $16,000 increase will be used to purchase needed equipment on a lease-purchase agreement, Favre said.

Salary increases was the major increase in the public grounds department.

Capital outlay increase, accounted for most of the increase in the street safety and sanitation departments.

In the budget for public property, health and welfare funds, there was an increase of nearly $13,000.

Major increases here will go for repairs and upkeep of city hall and Webb Center.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The report on the city of Bay St. Louis' budget for the 1985 fiscal year will continue in Sunday's paper.

Pirates lose to Tomcats, prepare for East Central

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

A second half rally by the Pass Christian Pirates fell just short of a win Friday night as the Pirates were defeated 14-12 by the Stone County Tomcats.

The first half belonged to the Tomcats as they tallied a 14-0 lead on two touchdown pass plays.

But it was a whole different ballgame following halftime as the Pirate defense came out and put the brakes on the Stone County offense, while the Pirate offense scored twice and threatened to score again to win.

The first Pirate score came when Stone County turned the ball over to the Pirates, just 25 yards from paydirt on a fumble.

Scoring on a 30-yard pass from quarterback Joey Rogers to Tony Howell, the Pirates put six on the scoreboard, but fumbled the snap and could not add the extra point.

Stone County was unable to mount a scoring drive on their next possession and turned the ball over to the Pirates following a punt.

Starting from their own 14-yard line, the Pirates drove the ball 60 yards in 11 plays before the Tomcats were able to stop them.

Another Stone County possession ended when the Pirates took over on downs and began their second scoring drive.

A 39-yard pass play put the ball on the Tomcat three-yard line. With first and goal, the Tomcats held the Pirates for three plays before quarterback Joey Rogers crossed the line to score. The two point conversion failed and the Tomcats had a 14-12 lead.

Stone County took the kickoff and ran down the clock until there were only 20 seconds left before the Pirates took possession.

With no timeouts remaining the Pirates were unable to stop the clock and had time for only one play.

The long pass was incomplete but pass interference against the Tomcats gave the Pirates another play although regulation game time had expired.

The game ended with a quarterback sack by Stone County defenders, winning a hard fought game over Pass Christian.

"The team played a good game against Stone County's tremendous ballclub," Head Coach Alton Wright said.

Wright said the Tomcat offense, led by Stevon Moore, was a little better than the Pirate's.

But he had words of praise for his own offensive players Joey Rogers, Herbert Dedeaux and Mark Boyd.

Boyd, who caught three passes for 67 yards, was chosen as the Harrison County Optimist Club Player of the Week.

Irvin Hall also caught three passes for the Pirates, adding 15 yards to the total of 118 yards.

On the ground, the Pirates had a total of 102 yards with Tony Howell as the leading rusher with 42 yards. Rogers had 30 yards rushing.

Defensively Alan Dedeaux, Jason Dedeaux and Winston Ausner, all had good games for the Pirates, Wright said.

"Penalties and mistakes in crucial situations contributed to the loss," he said.

Having only 10 men on the field when the ball went into play, cost the Pirates three penalties and two time outs that were desperately needed in the final seconds of the game.

"We had too many mistakes," Wright said, "but the team fought down to the wire."

"One of the great assets of this team is that they will not quit until the whistle blows," said Wright.

An example of how the players will not quit is that Alan Dedeaux dislocated a finger in the second quarter of the game and did not report it until after the game was over, Wright added.

"That's just the kind of team we have, they will play even if they are injured," he said.

Injuries could be a factor against the Pirates in this week's game against East Central.

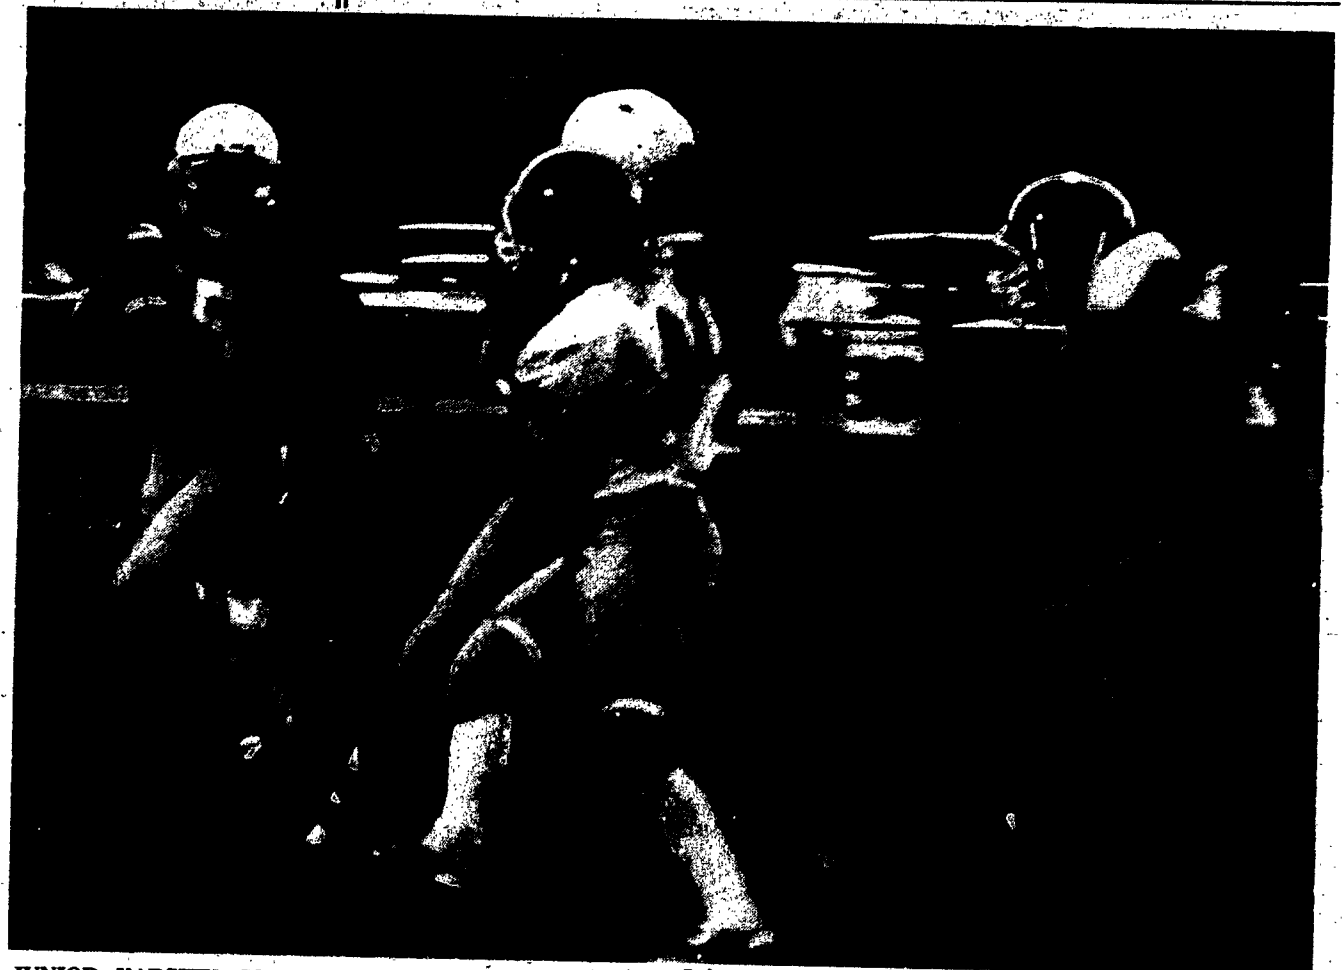

Wright said it is questionable whether or not several of the players will be able to go on the field Friday night.

This week the Pirates have been working basically on the fundamentals of the game, he said.

"I think if we stick with the fundamentals and improve the execution, we will have a good ball game," Wright said.

We are particularly preparing for the counter-option play the Hornets use, he said. Wright said he thought this play was one of East Central's better plays.

The game will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday on the East Central home field.

Coast to risk unbeaten record in Waveland Friday

The Coast Episcopal High School Red Raiders Saturday beat Cornerstone Academy of Baton Rouge Cardinals 36-12. The homecoming game was played on the CEHS Pass Christian campus.

Raider Chip Sandifer scored first on a four-yard run.

Sandifer also took in a 50-yard touchdown pass from Dylan Langdon in the first half.

A two-point conversion brought the score to 14 before Eric Grassit of Coast intercepted a pass and returned it to the one-yard line.

He then scored on a quarterback sneak.

Chuck Roberts of Cornerstone scored on a 35-yard run, leaving the halftime score at 20-6.

The Coast defense throttled Cornerstone in the second half, holding the visitors to one more six-pointer while the Raider posted an additional 16 points.

Offensively Coast rolled up nearly 300 yards all evening.

Sandifer scored two second half touchdowns on runs of 40 and 4 yards.

Two points were made by Langdon on conversion and Coast's final points were scored on a safety by Victor Marchese.

Late in the fourth quarter, Cardinal Eddie Lebour posted a touchdown on a 30-yard pass play.

Coast Episcopal Coach Kearnie Bobinger commented, "We had another outstanding effort from our defensive unit. The defense played a very solid game." John Gregory and Victor Marchese did an excellent job controlling the line of scrimmage.

"We have an offensive line that is opening big holes. Offensively we have three outstanding running backs: Dylan Langdon, Chip Sandifer and Greg Thurmond," the coach continued, "and a quarterback in Eric Grassit who knows how to get the ball to the right person. He is a fine option player."

The Raiders have a 3-0 standing. Defense has been giving up ten points a game while offense has been averaging 28 points.

The next game will be at Trinity Academy in Waveland Friday at 7:30 p.m.

PRC homecoming opponent no pushover

When it's time to pick a homecoming opponent, most school officials will take down the old schedule and say, "We stand a pretty good chance of beating this bunch—plan homecoming around this game."

For Pearl River College Wildcats' 1984 Homecoming, somebody forgot to get out the old schedule. There's no way anyone can say a "weak sister" was picked as the opposition.

Pearl River will play none other than arch-rival Gulf Coast for its 75th Homecoming Saturday night.

"It's kinda like putting all your eggs in one basket," said J.C. Arban, the Wildcats' head coach. "Not only are we playing our long-time rival, but it will be before a homecoming crowd. You know situations like this could lead to sleepless nights."

If Arban can't sleep at night this week it's certainly understandable. The Gulf Coast Bulldogs, coached by George Sekul, will enter the contest with a perfect 6-0 record and a recent conquest of Jones, the team which blasted the Wildcats 34-0 earlier in the year.

"Perk has an outstanding team," said Arban. "They have outstanding talent and they are well coached." The Bulldogs will be ranked in the top ten of at least three national polls this week. They are allowing only seven points per game, while scoring almost 24.

"If we stay fairly healthy and play our best, we should be able to give them a good game," Arban said. "It will certainly take a tremendous effort on our part."

This past Saturday in Decatur the Wildcats racked up their third consecutive win with a 14-10 decision over East Central. The first South Division victory of the year put the 'Cats' record at 3-2-1 for the season.

Arban said he likes to play people with good records. "It's a super challenge for us. We must do our best and have everything going for us," Arban said. "They (Gulf Coast) are a great football team."

Last year the Bulldogs upended the 'Cats 22-7. The year before the Bulldogs eased by with a 17-14 decision at Biloxi. Back in 1981 the Wildcats took a hard-fought 14-10 decision at home. It was also the 'Cats' Homecoming.

The contest will mark the 33rd year of what is believed to be the longest running junior college football series in the state and nation. Pearl River dominates the win column with 32 victories against 19 defeats. There has been only one tie.

Arban did admit that emotions are a major part of the game. "Emotions are very much involved. We get up for them and they get up for us. It's a matter of who stays highest the longest."

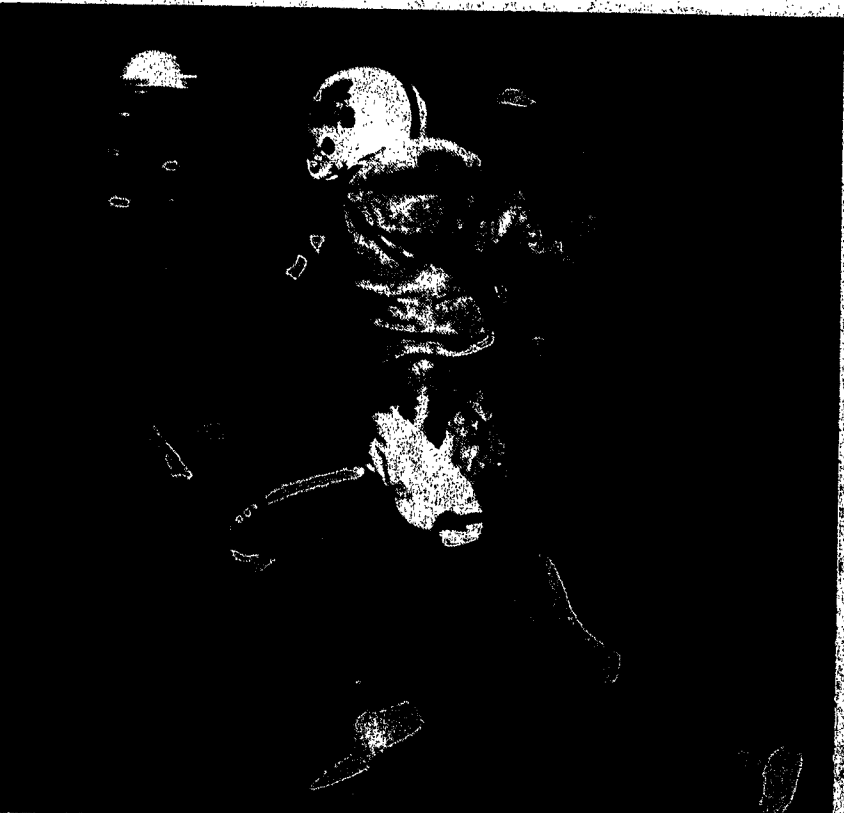

Arban said Rob Gill, starting defensive tackle from Petal, was lost for the season with a broken arm. "We have a few sprains but nothing else really serious," said Arban.

"Gulf Coast is obviously the favorite but I don't think they are going to have an easy time with us," said Arban. "It should be a great game to watch."

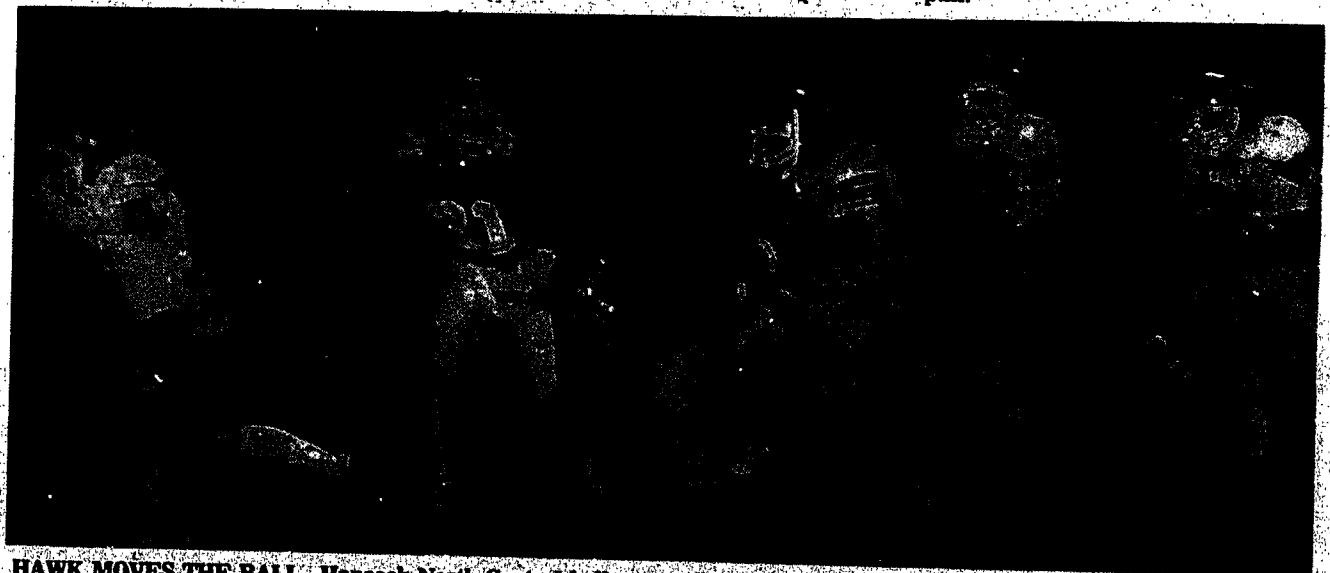

Arban issued "Player of the Week" awards this week to freshman quarterback, John Doran, who stepped in for Chip Lofton, the 'Cats' sophomore quarterback who spent the weekend in the hospital with a virus. Lofton was back on campus Monday and should be ready for Saturday's clash.

Arban also singled out Peter Dunn on the offensive line, Mark McLeod at defensive back, Richard Poole on defensive line, and Cris Ritter on special teams.

The game will start at 8 p.m.; however, the PRC Homecoming Court will be presented in pre-game ceremonies at 7:30 p.m.

Wildcats on a 3-game roll

Pearl River College won its third game in a row Saturday night with a come-from-behind 14-10 decision over East Central Junior College in Decatur.

Freshman quarterback John Doran of Chalmette, La. led the attack in the place of sophomore starter Chip Lofton, who spent most of the day Saturday in the Pearl River County Hospital with a virus.

"I kept the fact that Chip would not play a secret as long as I could," Arban said. "But when we boarded the buses Saturday morning and Chip was not around, well, it was quite obvious something was wrong."

Doran, who has played only a few downs during the first half of the season, passed for two touchdowns and completed 10 of 15 passes for 147 yards. During the first half, Doran's drive culminated in a 19-yard touchdown pass to Doran.

the defense.

"We were just not tackling," Arban said. "So I told them at halftime that they either started tackling or I would spend the entire week in tackling drills."

Obviously Arban's threat worked as the Warriors failed to score in the second half. The Warriors took the early lead on their second offensive possession with a 15-play, 74-yard drive culminating in a 19-yard run by Otis Johnson at the 4:33 mark of the first quarter. After Hawkins was true with the point after touchdown (PAT) for the 7-0 Warrior lead.

Early in the second quarter the Warriors recovered a fumbled punt on the Wildcat 40-yard line. The Warriors called a timeout and then ran a 12-play, 74-yard drive culminating in a 19-yard run by Otis Johnson at the 4:33 mark of the first quarter. After Hawkins was true with the point after touchdown (PAT) for the 7-0 Warrior lead.

the score 10-0 in favor of the home-standing Warriors.

But the Wildcats would not be shut out in the first half as Doran passed 22 yards to Zac Morris with 48 seconds remaining in the half. Kenneth Seymour added the PAT to make the score 10-7 in favor of the Warriors.

It didn't take the Wildcats long to get on the board in the second half as they took the kickoff and marched 73 yards in nine plays with Doran passing to freshman tailback Peter Boyd for a 24-yard score. Seymour kicked the PAT for the 17-7 Wildcats lead.

The Wildcats' comeback was aided by a defensive stop on the Warrior 40-yard line. The Warriors called a timeout and then ran a 12-play, 74-yard drive culminating in a 19-yard run by Otis Johnson at the 4:33 mark of the first quarter. After Hawkins was true with the point after touchdown (PAT) for the 7-0 Warrior lead.

SHAPING UP

By J. E. LOIACANO
You get an extra plus from exercise. Even after you stop, your metabolism remains high for a while, and you'll burn extra calories—even doing nothing—for hours afterward.

A fast-paced walk, a mile in 15 minutes, is still a super exercise.

The ANYWHERE exercise: press the small of your back against the back of a chair, the seat of your car, even against the wall. That pelvic tilt protects and strengthens your back.

Mini-trampoline is particularly good for older people whose joints are not up to jogging or running on hard pavement. Force of the foot on a mini-trampoline is only one-sixth what it would be on the ground.

What is your resting pulse rate? An athlete in good condition can return to the resting pulse rate within minutes after exercise.

WONDERWORKS
Jose Ferrer co-stars in "Who Has Seen the Wind" on "Wonderworks" at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 15 and 22 on Mississippi ETV. Brian Painschaud stars as young Brian O'Connell, with Ferrer as "The Ben."

In the drama, the inequities of the adult world are seen through the eyes of 10-year-old Brian in rural Saskatchewan during the Depression.

An old schoolteacher who seemingly hates children, prejudice against a Chinese girl and a preacher who condemns a man for being an incorrigible drunk but drinks the liquor produced by his still are the key ingredients in the story.

Field day, homecoming game, crowning and dance highlight event-packed Saturday at Coast Episcopal

T-shirts with designs selected and imprinted by each class were a new idea at the Coast Episcopal Elementary Field Day.

The annual event held Saturday morning at the Pass Christian high school campus involved children from the three-year-old class through the sixth grade.

Classes participated in frisbie tosses or softball throws, relay races, tug-of-war, standing long jump, dashes, timed obstacle races and sack races.

Ribbons were awarded at each event. The three- and four-year-olds and the kindergarten participated in their own separate set of events. Parents helped score races and formed cheering sections.

At 4 p.m. the CEHS Red Raiders played the Cornerstone Academy from Baton Rouge for a 36 to 12 victory.

At halftime the homecoming court was driven around the field in convertibles and introduced to the spectators.

The court consisted of representatives from each class escorted by their fathers.

Principal Pete Psikogis escorted the queen, senior Kathy Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Davis of Pass Christian.

The co-captains of the football team, Chip Sandifer and Greg Thurmond, presented the queen with roses and her crown. The Boosters Club and students sold food throughout the day. In the evening, the high school Student Lounge was decorated for a homecoming dance.

FIRST GRADE tug-of-war teams receive enthusiastic support from parental spectators at the recent Coast Episcopal field day.

FIFTH GRADE DUST BUSTERS build a pyramid as teacher Mrs. Byran displays the class logo. From top the students are Karen Kohl of Pass Christian, Lillie Davis of Bay St. Louis, Blair Shellnut of Pass Christian, Angel Puckett of Pass Christian, Pelar Frederick of Bay St. Louis and Kristine Krogstad of Pass Christian.

SIXTH GRADER David Williams won six ribbons in the recent Coast Episcopal Field Day events, and his father James Williams of Ocean Springs proudly shows them off.

RAIDER QUARTERBACK Eric Graset is surrounded by fans hungry for details of the football victory during a break in the homecoming dance music.

JAMES AND BONNIE UNDERWOOD are among the high school homecoming dancers.

Coast high schools sponsoring Biloxi career event tonight

More than 130 invitations have been extended to colleges, universities, vocational schools, industries, service academies and military branches to participate in the annual "College-Career Night on the Coast" Thursday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Mississippi Coast Convention Center on US-90 at Beauvoir Road in Biloxi.

This event gives high school juniors and seniors and their parents the opportunity to meet with college admission counselors, as well as with representatives from the military branches, service academies, vocational schools, ROTC programs, industries, career fields and financial aid programs.

College-Career Night is a joint effort, sponsored by the guidance departments of 14 Coast high schools, to enhance students' opportunities to gain information needed for making proper educational and career decisions.

The guidance department of d'Arville High School of Biloxi is coordinating this year's College-Career Night. The sponsoring high schools are:

Bay St. Louis High School, Biloxi High School, Coast Episcopal High School, Gulfport High School, Harrison Central High School, Long Beach High School, Mercy Cross High School, Ocean Springs High School, Our Lady Academy, Pass Christian High School, St. John High School, St. Martin High School and St. Stanislaus High School.

Those attending the program should enter the grounds through Gate 3 at Beauvoir Road and use the West entrance to the building.

GULF COAST AREA STUDENTS AT UMC—Presley Mallett, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Mallett of Biloxi, and Diane Wilkinson, right, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew K. Martinolich Jr. of Bay St. Louis, are among first-year medical students at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson. Pictured with them are Lila Chastain, second left, of Greenwood and Tim Norton, second right, of Brookhaven. Total enrollment this fall for the health sciences campus is 1,737.

*Motto of the Christian Society

Newspapers in our country have been lighting candles since the birth of our nation. And the light from those candles has exposed fraud, enlightened readers, prevented corruption, and in short, made a free society possible.

The First Amendment right of a free press is a right that belongs to every citizen of our republic. It is as basic and as fundamental as the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Open access to governmental records and governmental meetings is a fundamental necessity if we are to continue to have a society where every individual is protected from government abuse. Just as important, a free press provides government with the confidence and support it needs from an informed citizenry. Keep the candles burning. Celebrate National Newspaper Week with us!
